Cooperation between the United Nations and the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe

Report of the Secretary-General

Corrigendum

Replace paragraph 32 with the following:

32. In its resolution 1244 (1999) of 10 June 1999, the Security Council authorized me, with the assistance of relevant international organizations, to establish an international civil presence in Kosovo, Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, in order to provide an interim administration for Kosovo. As this task required an integrated approach with a clear distribution of labour, my Deputy, Louise Fréchette, met with representatives of the Chairman-in-Office of OSCE on 15 June 1999 to discuss an allocation of responsibilities in Kosovo between the United Nations and OSCE. A meeting between Mr. Bernard Miyet and the Ambassador of Norway to the OSCE on 1 June 1999 and a subsequent exchange of letters between the United Nations and the OSCE Chairman-in-Office in July 1999 further clarified OSCE's responsibilities. It was agreed that OSCE would take the lead role in human resources capacity-building, including the training of a new Kosovo police service, judicial personnel and civil administrators; media affairs; democratization and governance; the organization and supervision of elections; and the monitoring, protection and promotion of human rights, in cooperation, inter alia, with the UNHCHR and the Council of Europe.
